Katie bar the door...Clovers-Pointers to clash

AL TUCKER

BY MIKE CHRON
Sports Editor

The Fourth of July it isn't but there is still going to be plenty of fireworks tomorrow night in Greencastle. The occasion? The annual Bainbridge-Cloverdale basketball game.

This game, it should be pointed out, is not just a "game" in the ordinary sense. It is, instead, nothing short of war with the casualties being the fans of the losing team, around 1,200 in all.

The stage is set tomorrow night in the old Greencastle gymnasium and the ticket sellers will be scraping up every available slot for the fans, while the fire marshal is growing a new headful of gray hair.

Bainbridge comes into this annual meeting with a flawless 6-0 record, while the Clovers bring their 6-1 mark to town. The only loss suffered by Cloverdale this season was a 76-64 decision posted by Greencastle in the inaugural game of its new 5,000 seat arena.

Bainbridge has one of the finest scoring punches of any team in Indiana. They have rolled over every opponent so far, with their "narrowest" margin of victory 18-points.

That game was against Turkey Run, not considered to be prep power of any sorts, with the Pointers finally winding upon top 82-64.

The Pointers, under the direction of Coach Pat Rady, have a fast break and a full court press that can tear a team to shreds. And that has been proven more than once.

Bainbridge also boasts one of the tallest boys in a high school lineup anywhere with the likes of 6-foot-11 giant Fred Cox, Cox, a junior, is currently averaging in the neighborhood of 21-points per game, and can haul down as many rebounds as the other team is allowed.

Mike Elliott, a 6-foot-3 senior, and Mike Miller, a 5-foot-11 senior, can also poke the roundball through the net which give the Pointers overall depth in shooting.

The Pointers are a hot-shooting bunch, and this was quickly pointed out by Rady. "They're hitting .509 from the field which really pleases me." "I've never had a team to hit so high as this one does, especially for being fairly early in the season."

But, from the charity stripe, it's a different story. "We're only hitting .568 from there," confessed Rady, "and that's not good." As for the Pointers' inability to cash their free tosses, Rady was at a loss for the reason. There's been many games decided at the free throw line, and those are the kind that fans remember and coaches have nightmares over.

If it sounds as though the Pointers have everything down solid, you have to only recall the Turkey Run game to think differently.

"We're still making a few mistakes," Rady said, "but we feel we're improving as the season progresses, but we have to cut down on them yet."

"This will be a tough thing to overcome in a game such as this one," the BHS mentor explained, "we just can't make mistakes, both the mental kind and the ones in playing the game."

As for the type of game BHS fans can expect, Rady said, "We don't have any unusual plans. We're just going to play our normal game." The "normal game" for the Pointers is to employ their full court press from start to finish and completely destroy the other team's offensive game.

Asked how his team was eyeing this game, Rady said he hoped they would take it as a key game, but not the most important of the season. "The boys are looking forward to it, I think, but we're not going to key in for this as our top game of the season."

"If you do this," the lanky coach explained, "you can reach your peak too early, and we've still got plenty of games left."

It's going to be a big game, but we're hoping to be as relaxed as we can and put on a good show. Getting the other team to play your kind of game is the real thing. If you have to play their kind, then it sometimes has a different ending."

Bainbridge, in the first state prep poll by UPI, was listed as Continued on Page 6

No action taken on DePauw request for zoning variance

by BILL BOYD,
Staff Reporter

Lack of a university representative prevented the Greencastle Board of Zoning Appeals from acting on DePauw University's request for a zoning variance for their science classroom building to be constructed soon.

The board tabled the request for variance in its regular meeting Thursday evening till the next scheduled session January 9, pending appearance of a representative of the university.

The university's request seeks variance from that part of the zoning ordinance which prohibits buildings over three stories and/or taller than 40 feet. The forthcoming science building--to be placed on the block bounded by College, Indiana, Hanna, and Chestnut Streets--is planned at four stories.

Estimated cost of construction for the new university building is $5,500,000 dollars; with equipment the building's cost rises to an estimated $7,000,000 dollars. But the university must allot five dollars to the city clerk prior to its variance hearing as the regulation variance request fee.

The presence of advertising on the 21 litter receptacles newly placed in the downtown area by the Greencastle Lions Club creates a violation of the zoning ordinance which may or may not be ruled upon by the board. Discussion of the questionable attractive receptacles centered on jurisdiction.

If the litter receptacles' placement is wholly confined to the immediate downtown area only the City Council has jurisdiction. But if receptacles have been placed outside this area, the board may rule.

Five charged with burglary

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Five persons, including three from Indianapolis, have been arrested on bank burglary charges near Topeka, Kans., James T. Neagle, FBI agent in charge here, said Thursday. Two were women.

Arrested in connection with the attempted holdup of the Silver Lake State Bank at Silver Lake, Kans. were Billie Tollard, 35, George Blaine Spears, 38, Sandy Pettyjohn, 24, all of Indianapolis, and Thomas Lee Woodridge, 37, of Monticello, Ky. and Joelle Dean Pickett, 27, of Louisville, Ky.

They were arrested after they had been observed in the vicinity of the bank attempting to burglarize it, Neagle said. They had burglary tools in their possession, he said.

All five were afforded a preliminary hearing Thursday before U.S. Commissioner Fred S. Jackson, Topeka.

Pollard and Woodridge were held on $15,000 bond each, Spears on $20,000 bond and Miss Pickett and Miss Pettyjohn $15,000 bond.

They will be afforded a further hearing and were held for the action of a federal grand jury at Topeka.

A Switch

LINCOLN, England (UPI) — Pop art posters, armchairs painted in psychedelic colors and loudspeakers playing Beethoven music have replaced the "silence" signs in a new wing of Lincoln's Central Library.

Library director Thomas Baker explained "many teenagers do not like normal libraries. We are giving them a pop atmosphere to put them at ease." The whole aim, he said, was to lure the teen-agers back to books.

The Greencastle Christian Church received the board's approval to locate its congregation in the existing building at 412 Maple (corner of Maple and Elm).

University receives two grants totaling $4,500

Two grants totaling $4,500 have been awarded by corporate foundations to DePauw University.

President William E. Kerstetter announced today that DePauw has received $2,000 from the Inland Steel-Ryerson Foundation and an additional $2,500 from the Esso Education Foundation.

Prisoner Helps Out Sheriff

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — An inmate of the St. Louis County Jail helped the county sheriff out of a language problem which began when Sheriff Fred M. Joseph received a divorce petition — written in Spanish — from the court at Juarez, Mexico to be served on a woman in suburban Glendale.

Joseph, unable to read Spanish, scanned the prisoner list until he found a Mexican-sounding name: Florencio Diaz. Diaz, held on a burglary charge, agreed to translate the document so the summons could be served.

Christian Church plans pageant Sunday

The annual Christmas pageant of The First Christian Church will be held this Sunday at 7 p.m. in the sanctuary. The community is invited to share with members and friends of the church in witnessing this portrayal of events surrounding the birth of Jesus.

Directed by Miss Blanche Williams, with assistance from many members of the congregation, characterizations are done by members of the Senior and Junior High youth fellowships. The role of Mary will be portrayed by Martha Webb, while Richard Burkett plays the part of Joseph. Others include: Trent Boesen as Gabriel, Joe Boyd as the Innkeeper, Jeffrey Hughes as Nathan, Bruce Poe as the shepherd boy, and the three kings—Jay Boyd, Trent Tirsway and Jeff

The board issued a trailer variance of the standard two-year duration to Robert L. Rumley for location of his trailer in the residentially-zoned 1100 block of Avenue E.

According to Frank W. Luerssen, vice president for research for Inland, "DePauw was selected as one of a few outstanding institutions of higher learning to receive Foundation grants this year." The award is unrestricted.

The Esso grant, one of 300 made by the New York-based foundation, is aimed at underwriting activities which will improve undergraduate learning on the campus which were not otherwise budgeted for.

The Esso Education Foundation is supported by Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) and some of its affiliates.

Arrests

The local sheriff's department reported two arrests Friday morning: Norman L. Jones, 32, Fillmore, R.R.1, driving under the influence, and James L. McGown, 45, 1103 Ave. E, public intoxication.

Webb, Angels with speaking parts will be Debbie Donelson and Laurelee Hamilton.

The four choirs of the church—Primary, Junior, Youth and Chancel—will share in the musical portions of the pageant, while soloists will include members of these choirs and special guests.

The Christmas Pageant has become an anticipated event in First Christian Church because it brings together all of the congregation in the one program. Using all areas of the sanctuary, even those attending the service are "brought into" the event.

Narrator will be the minister, Rev. Maxwell James Webb, while organist and director of music is Mrs. Evan Crawley, Sr.

Dismiss teacher, Sweden suspend pupils

LEBANON, Ind. (UPI) — A high school teacher, fired for permitting pupils to smoke in a teachers' lounge, said Thursday his willingness to treat teen-agers as equals was the underlying issue behind his dismissal.

Terrance Doran, a Latin teacher at Granville Wells High School southwest of here, was dismissed Wednesday and 85 pupils were suspended Thursday after staging a sit-in demonstration on his behalf.

"I tried to speak up for the students," Doran said, "and for this reason I was discriminated against." He said he and the principal who fired him simply have "different philosophies of life."

Principal Sam Valentine declined comment on his suspension of the 85 students at the school with an enrollment of about 300.

Performance planned to raise money

Twenty-nine DePauw University students are going to do their thing to help raise funds for a projected performing arts center.

Monday night they'll dance, read poetry and provide drama and original music at an innovative program called dessert-theatre. Launching time is 7 p.m. and the site is the ballroom of the Student Union.

All the Monday night performers are members of a newly inaugurated course called Intro to Fine Arts. The course was introduced last year in DePauw's experimental curriculum. This year it's gained full fledged recognition.

Students in the class meet four hours weekly under the tutelage of five professors. They study art, drama, music, dance and poetry, satisfying, when they are finished, the University's Fine Arts graduation requirement.

What dessert-theatregoers will see Monday will be a 90 minute costumed presentation called "Christmas vs. The World." The five media represented in the course will be used as vehicles to zero in on poverty, race, war and commercialization as each relates to Christmas.

Besides turning over the profits to the Performing Arts Center fund, Professor James Elrod said the program is aimed at showcasing the course and what it is as well as providing exposure for undergraduate performers. Elrod teaches the drama portion of the class.

Sweden gives asylum to U.S. GI's

By IAN WESTERGREN
STOCKHOLM (UPI)—Sweden granted asylum today to nine American servicemen opposed to U.S. Vietnam war policy, raising to 149 the number of GIs in legal exile here.

The aliens commission also ordered two U.S. draftdodgers expelled from Sweden.

The commission said it granted asylum to the new nine on the usual "humanitarian grounds."

The American Deserters Committee (ADC) here said there were at least 200 runaway GIs in Sweden. It said many have not yet applied for asylum.

The two draft dodgers were rejected because they were not members of the U.S. armed forces, an aliens commission spokesman said. They were not identified.

The nine GIs given refuge in this neutral country all told the commission they opposed the Vietnam War and feared they would be sent to fight there.

The spokesman identified them as:

—David Labinger, 22, Boston, Mass. Labinger also brought his wife, Madeline, who also was granted permission to remain in Sweden.

James Roberson, 22, of West Virginia.

—Edward Smith, 22, Mansfield, Ohio.

—Gilbert Bruce Owen, 22, Decatur, Ill.

Walter Marshall, 20, Portsmouth, N.H.

—Terry Keck, 21, Illinois.

—Robert Townsend, 27, Paterson, N.J.

—Staffan Paul Kraus, 20, Fitzburg, Mass.

—Billy Staton, 21, Wichita, Kan.

Fear fate of 51 plane passengers

By KIM FUAD
CARACAS (UPI)—Searchers found only bodies, empty rubber rafts and no survivors today in the shark-infested Caribbean Sea where a jet airliner carrying 51 persons from New York exploded and crashed in a ball of fire Thursday night.

"There are no signs of life," Venezuelan Navy rescue officials said.

In New York, Pan American World Airways officials said there "remains a possibility passengers could have survived on life rafts."

The plane crashed 16 miles off the Venezuelan coast as it approached Caracas' Maiquetia International Airport on a non stop flight from New York.

"There was a great explosion and only fragments of the plane remain," said a naval officer. Residents of a housing project behind the airport also reported seeing a shower of fiery fragments falling into the sea at the time of the crash.

Naval patrol boats brought in the bodies of a boy, 3, and a woman in her 20s to the port of La Guaira early today. Crewmen said at least four other bodies had been found. Rescuers said they found two rubber life rafts from the plane. Both were inflated but empty.

The control tower at Maiquetia said it lost contact with the Pan Am jet at 8:59 p.m. EST minutes before it was due to land.

The jet was approaching at 1,000 feet when tragedy struck. Pan American spokesmen in New York said the plane, Flight 217, sent no message that it was in trouble.

Among the passengers, mostly Venezuelans, were Mrs. Antonetti, Luis Beltran Gonzalez, president of a Venezuelan advertising agency, and two Cuban citizens, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Toscano of Fairlawn, N.J.

When news of the crash spread to the waiting room at Maiquetia, panic gripped those waiting for the flight to arrive. A doctor treated several persons who fainted at the report. Five naval vessels along with private yachts and planes continued to search a wide area off the coast on the possibility there were survivors.

It was the first crash of a plane making an approach to Maiquetia airport and the first of a Pan American plane in Venezuela.

Both the airport and the port of La Guaira are on the coast some 20 miles from Caracas which is inland.

Tallulah Bankhead dies

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tallulah Bankhead, the transatlantic star who called everybody "Dahling," is dead at the age of 65.

Miss Bankhead died at 7:45 a.m. EST Thursday in the intensive care unit at St. Luke's Hospital. A spokesman said death was caused by double pneumonia complicated by emphysema.

An older sister, Eugenia Bankhead, and a nephew, Billy Bankhead, were at the bedside.

Private services will be at 3 p.m. Saturday in the St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Kent, Md. A memorial service will be at 3 p.m. Monday in St. Bartholomew's Church, New York.

Miss Bankhead's great successes were scored on stage—as Regina Giddens in "The Little Foxes," Sabina in "The Skin of Our Teeth" and Sadie Thompson in "Rain"—but she was most widely known for her films, notably the 1944 Alfred Hitchcock picture "Lifeboat."

Miss Bankhead had an acid tongue, but she herself was as often as not the target of her own gibes—as, for example, when she described herself as being "pure as the driven slush."

On another occasion, when making a moving picture in her later years, she remarked "they used to shoot Shirley Temple through gauze (to minimize the visible effects of age). They should shoot me through linoleum."

Miss Bankhead was born Jan. 31, 1903, in Huntsville, Ala., the child of one of Alabama's leading political families. Her grandfather and an uncle were U.S. senators, and her father, Rep. William B. Bankhead, was speaker of the House of Representatives.

INDIANA DAILY STUDENT

We didn't really expect the Central Intelligence Agency to talk about their business to interested I.U. students — and, of course, they didn't. The I.U. leftist groups respectfully asked the CIA to send a man to the campus and participate in a public debate and the CIA conveniently slipped behind their protective legal cloak and declined the invitation.

Hal W. Bohlin, director of the I.U. Forum, worked hard to set up the debate for this week while the agency is recruiting on campus. Bohlin was told that "the CIA is prohibited by law from engaging in any public discussions of its purposes or operations."

This is the second year in a row that the CIA has been asked to discuss its operations with the students. This is also the second year in a row that the agency has declined.

The Daily Student has repeatedly endorsed the philosophy of a free campus and freedom of inquiry regarding speakers and organizations which visit the campus. The administration has also given its support to such a philosophy.

Dow Chemical Company and other organizations which are deemed objectionable by student groups have consented to being questioned when they visit campus. The I.U. Convocation series also maintains an informal rule that all speakers must submit to question and answer periods.

This philosophy becomes even more pertinent when a group comes to I.U. to recruit students and not just offer opinions and ideas as speakers do.

But the CIA has repeatedly shown its disdain for the idea of a free university. The organization has refused to be confronted by student questions and has evaded open discussions at every opportunity.

While the University may have a responsibility to its students to provide job opportunities after graduation, it has a more important responsibility to provide the intellectual atmosphere necessary for the students to prepare for these jobs.

For these reasons, we feel that the University and the I.U. Placement Bureau withdraw its invitation to the CIA to recruit I.U. students. We also feel that the University should refuse to allow the CIA to recruit on campus until the organization agrees to submit to an open discussion.

LBJ to leave Nixon pay raise of $50,000

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congressional sources said today President Johnson's gift to Richard M. Nixon as his successor could be a pay raise of $50,000 or more.

Under present law the president gets a salary of $100,000 a year plus $50,000 for expenses. A government pay commission has recommended that the salary be doubled.

Under the Constitution a president's pay cannot be changed during his term of office. Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., said he understood Johnson would therefore recommend fast action on a presidential pay raise by the 91st Congress before Nixon takes office Jan. 20.

Udall thought the recommended increase would be about half, or possibly a little more than half, of the $100,000 pay boost proposed by the commission.

In other areas the commission's recommended pay raises, after possible modification by Johnson, will go into effect automatically unless Congress takes action to stop them.

They include: salaries of House and Senate members to go from $30,000 to $50,000; cabinet members, from $35,000 to $60,000; district judges, from $30,000 to $47,500; Supreme Court associate justices from $39,500 to $65,000; the Chief Justice, from $40,000 to $87,500.

Congress created the pay commission last year as a way to duck the ticklish issue of periodically raising their own salaries. Members last raised their pay in 1964 from $22,500 to the current $30,000.

The liberality of the proposed increases shocked some lawmakers and raised doubts whether their adoption will be as automatic as had been planned. Rep. Udall, who was instrumental in drafting the legislation last year, said he would ask Johnson to trim the proposed congressional pay scale to $40,000 or less. "Otherwise,"

He said, "Congress will never let it go into effect."

Trial set for case of Clay Shaw

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The long delayed trial of Clay L. Shaw, charged with conspiring to assassinate President John F. Kennedy, has been set for Jan. 21, the day after Richard Nixon takes office as President.

Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison hopes the new administration will not interfere with his prosecution of Shaw and further investigation of the assassination.

"It would not be possible for the next attorney general to be anything but an improvement over Ramsey Clark, who almost from the first day has participated in obstructing our efforts to prosecute the case," said Garrison.

He has contended, since arresting Shaw March 1, 1967, that the federal government is hiding certain documents to hamper his attacks on the Warren Commission report.

Garrison announced the trial date Wednesday and also said he had been offered a federal judgeship to drop the Shaw case. He declined to say who made the offer.

"Even if I'm killed, the Clay Shaw case will go to trial," he said.

The 55-year-old Shaw lost a civil rights appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court this week. The high court decision allowed Garrison to proceed with the prosecution of the former managing director of the International Trade Mart.

Garrison has accused Shaw of conspiring with Lee Harvey Oswald in the assassination of President Kennedy in 1963. He holds that Oswald was a "patsy" for a group of conspirators and did not fire a shot.

FOR THE BIRDS

WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY, Jr's

ON THE RIGHT

On the theme, Why are Americans such slobs, the answer so often given is that we do not often enough complain of mal-treatment, commercial, political, educational, philosophical. The rules of this column, which sponsors an occasional "Voice Your Personal Complaint," are: no politics, and nothing cosmic. My contribution for the season...

I found myself, a few weeks ago, aloft 30 miles west of Bermuda without fuel to power into the island, or sufficient time to tack in by sail and still catch the 6:15 flight to New York in time to discharge an after-dinner speaking commitment.

So, I called the Bermuda Marine Operator who put me through to a boat company which kindly undertook to solve my problems. The company would send speedboat A to where we lay, and it would whisk me into Hamilton Harbor in time to catch my plane.

(Indeed, the manager grandly informed me that BOAC had been "instructed" to hold their flight in the event of my late arrival, which spoke marvels for the persuasiveness of the boat company, not to say the pliability of BOAC). Then Boat B, a little slower, would arrive with 20 or 30 gallons of fuel, sufficient to bring in my boat against wind and current. Boat B, the manager estimated over the radiotelephone, would charge "in the vicinity of $200," which I remember thinking a little steep, but then my dilemma (I had to get to New York; Spiro Agnew was among my guests, at a most ticklish political juncture) was also steep.

Anyway, Boat A arrived a little late. The U.S. Navy had reported us 27 miles out, whereas actually we were 33 miles out (could that be what happened to the Pueblo?). My companions and I lumbered on board and we sped to Hamilton Harbor not, alas, in time to make the crucial flight. BOAC took off on time, in utter disregard of the manager's instructions to await my arrival -- which certainly suggest that British manners are going to the dogs under a socialist government.

So, the next morning, I called round to the manager for the bill for the services of Boat A, a Bertram 30-foot sports fisherman with zowie 25 m.p.h. engines. How much, I asked jovially? Well, he said, for the boat, $125.

Reasonable, I thought reaching for my wallet. However -- he raised his hand -- there is an additional charge of $62.50 for running outside Point Argus which, he said, nobody around here does, as a rule.

I thought that a pity, inasmuch as the water is really quite pleasant outside Point Argus -- but, well, maybe there is something spooky about Point Argus, and there wasn't any time to argue. I did wonder how the convention had arrived at the figure $62.50. Why the $2.50? Cost of living increase?

And then: the cost of the gasoline, he said, is $60. And gasoline is expensive, indeed at one dollar a mile frighteningly so. Then -- the manager, incredibly, was still talking, and my eyes began to glaze -- there is the fee for the boat's pilot: $150. (Which comes to $25 per hour: not bad, not bad, indeed, smashing.)

Then -- the pilot had aboard two assistants, one of whom slept all the way and indeed, while somnambulistically helping offload my bags, fell right off the boat into the bay. I will charge for their services, said the manager handsomely, exactly what I pay them myself, which is eight dollars per hour. That makes $52 apiece.

Still it wasn't over. As for my own time, said the manager, you will appreciate that I spent all morning on the telephone, so I put that down for $100.

Now, I hate the telephone. And quite understand charging one hundred dollars for spending all morning on the telephone. I mean, don't you? So, for the 30 miles, and missing my plane, the bill was $601.50. I did not at the time have the bill for the services of Boat B, but in due course, the honest Boat B came in at the pre-specified $200.

I take it to be a matter of public service to advise mariners to the high cost of distress in Bermuda waters. Perhaps others will want to begin a lay-away Continued on page 3

New secretary is former Hoosier boy

By United Press International
Clifford M. Hardin is a one-time Hoosier farm boy turned teacher who has learned to keep his cool at the helm of a major university.

The chancellor of the University of Nebraska, a 53-year-old six-footer who weighs a trim 175 pounds, is a product of the family farm. He grew up near Knightstown, Ind., where his father, James, still lives, and was deeply involved in 4-H work as a youngster.

That same club participation brought him a 4-H scholarship to Purdue University where he won a Ph.D. in economics in 1941.

He was later director on the experiment station and dean of the College of Agriculture at Michigan State University before going to Nebraska in 1954.

"He's very calm and deliberate in his actions," said one of his assistants. "He thinks things through pretty well before speaking and when he does everybody listens."

"One of his secrets at the university," the aide added, "is the loyalty he has from his staff members. He has a personal magnetism about him and has inspired a loyalty among staff members which has kept them here at times they might have left if someone else were in charge."

The graying Hardin frequently puffs on a pipe, cradling it contemplatively when someone else is speaking. He places it deliberately in an ash tray to hold the listener's attention when he decides to speak.

Hardin has five children. His wife, Martha, met him at Purdue.

During Hardin's 14 years at Nebraska, the school's agriculture college added several research facilities, including an 8,000-acre meat field research laboratory.

Nebraska had a total enrollment of 7,000 when Hardin went there. The enrollment now stands at 30,000.

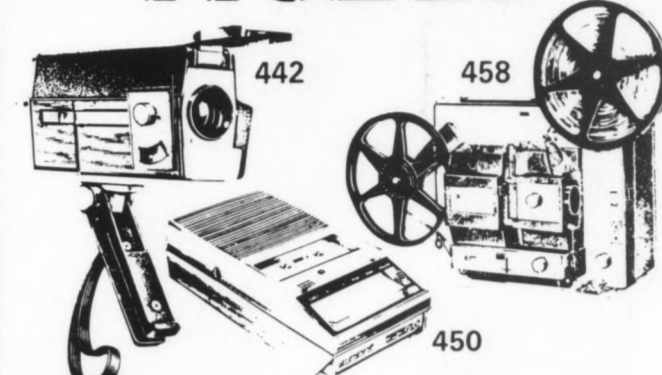

Hardin is a member of the board of the National Science Foundation, a former director of the American Council on Education, a trustee of the Rockefeller Foundation and a former director and chairman of the Omaha branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City.

Kindergarten students to enroll

Students, who expect to enter kindergarten in Cloverdale this year, will register in the old gymnasium of the high school on Monday, January 27, between 2 and 3 p.m. Books and supplies may be purchased at this time.

Prior to that date, parents should contact the school nurse in the elementary building for a conference and to pick up health and TB test forms. The phone number is 795-4203. Kindergarten students must have this test, and the forms, properly signed by a doctor, must be on file before they can enroll.

Parents should also bring the child's birth certificate to the conference.

Announce rail merger

CHICAGO (UPI)—The presidents of four railroad workers' unions today announced a merger which they said will create the nation's largest AFL-CIO transportation workers' union.

The merger will bring together the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and the Switchmen of North America.

The new union, to be known as the United Transportation Union, will have a combined membership of 280,000 in the United States and Canada, the announcement said.

In a joint statement the presidents of the combining unions said the purpose of the merger was "to end the battle of craft against craft—working men against working men."

The statement said the new union will lobby for a "broad mass transportation bill" covering urban and inter-urban rail traffic.

Marionettes to be featured

The Heiken Marionettes will be featured with the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra in a special family Holiday concert at Butler University's Clowes Hall this Sunday at 2:30 and 3:45 p.m.

Under the baton of Thomas Bricciotti, the program will open with excerpts from Gian Carlo Menotti's Christmas opera "Amahl and the Night Visitors." Samuel Barber's "Die Natli," a suite of seven well-known Christmas carols, will follow; and then the gaily-decorated orchestra pit will be raised to reveal the puppet stage and, while the musicians play the familiar Tchaikovsky score, the marionettes will act out the story of "The Nutcracker."

The script for this presentation is adapted from the Alexander Dumas version of the story which, in turn, is based on the original German fairytale.

Tickets for either performance are available from the Symphony Box Office for $1.50 each. This is a bonus concert for subscribers to the orchestra's regular Lolli-Pop series.

FUNERAL NOTICES

Prominent Fillmore man dies

Ora A. Day, 95, prominent resident of Fillmore, passed away Thursday in the Putnam County Hospital, where he had been a patient for the last three weeks.

Mr. Day was born Aug. 26, 1873, the son of Vincent and Lucinda Frank Day. He was a farmer and had spent all of his life in Floyd and Marion townships. He was a member of the Fillmore Methodist Church for over 73 years. For over 50 years he had been a member of Applegate No. 155 Fillmore Masonic Lodge and Fillmore O.E.S. He was chairman of the Fillmore Cemetery Association and was a charter member of the Putnam County Farm Bureau.

Survivors are his wife, Anna B. Day, one son, Oscar A. Day, and the daughter-in-law, Mary L. Day, Hinsdale, Ill., and two grandsons and their wives, John V. and Susan Day of Hinsdale, Ill., and Edwin A. and Roberta Day of Washington, D.C.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Fillmore Christian Church. Officiating ministers will be the Rev. James I. Shockley and the Rev. George Pyke. The body will lie in state at the church one hour preceding the services. Burial will be in the Fillmore Cemetery. Friends may call at anytime at the Rector Funeral Home. The Masonic Lodge will hold their service at the grave.

Program at Gobin United Methodist Church

The traditional "Festival of Lessons and Carols" will be presented at Gobin Memorial United Methodist Church Sunday at 11 a.m.

This annual service of Christmas music alternates Bible readings and music. The service was established centuries ago at King's College, Cambridge, England.

Nine persons, representing various age groups and parts church life, will read the scripture passages. They are Jim Buren, a DePauw student, Tammy Lewis, a child, Paul Wagoner, a youth, and Mrs. Charles Carmichael, Mrs. Charles Brown, Jr., Roger Cox, Terry McCarter, William E. Kerstetter, and Hansel H. Tower. Donald E. Bossart will give the bidding prayer and Jameson Jones the blessing.

Music will be sung by both the adult and junior choirs of Gobin. The prelude will be played by the Greencastle High School String Orchestra, directed by Mrs. Patience Berg.

The entire service is directed by Arthur Carkeek. Mrs. Carkeek is director of the junior choir. Miss Janet McClellan is organist for the service, and Philip Olsen will play the organ postlude.

As part of the service, the congregation will have opportunity to sing several familiar Christmas hymns. The community is invited to the service.

DEAR HELOISE:

I made a fabulous Christmas wreath for the outside of my large picture window.

I used a large hula-hoop and eight yards of red nylon net.

Cut the net into strips across the width about six inches wide.

Then using dental floss (because it is stronger than thread), I gathered one side of each strip and tied them around the hula-hoop.

By pushing the individual gathered pieces close together you can have a fuller wreath.

Any color net can be used and small ornaments or other decorations attached to the wreath to make it even prettier.

I hung this with a string nailed to the top of the frame on the outside of the window. And because it's nylon net, I have no worry about damage from weather.

Mrs. Raymond Wilson

DEAR HELOISE:

During the holiday season I usually bake cakes for my neighbors. I make regular pineapple-upside-down cakes and bake them in meat loaf pans, square or round casserole dishes.

Then decorate 'em with green and red cherries, sometimes even making "pointsettias" with the red ones.

It's a change from traditional fruit cake and at the same time, by using pineapple, pecans and cherries it still has some fruit.

Mrs. Mike Lozano

DEAR HELOISE:

And just who can't use a good cake through the holidays? And we don't have to eat our own cooking...

You just must be a good neighbor. Wish you were mine, I'd trade you one of my chocolate pies.

Love,
Heloise

DePauw newcomer plans "Santa's Swap Shop"

If a member of DePauw University Newcomers Club has an item around the house for which the use to that person has diminished, but which still may give pleasure or function to another, she should wrap it in Christmas paper and bring it to exchange at "Santa's Swap Shop."

Mrs. William Marley is opening her new home for this holiday party on Dec. 17 at 7:30 p.m. The Marley's now live at the very top of Edgeleaf Drive—third house on the right as the left turn is made.

Hostesses for this evening include Mrs. Robert Rennick, Mrs. Russell Miller, Mrs. Howard Jones, and Mrs. Lee Schoenfeld.

DEAR HELOISE:

When I go shopping and take a shopping bag, I place the lid of a shoe box in the bottom to reinforce it.

Sure makes it a lot sturdier and easier to handle.

Wheaton tonight, Bucknell Saturday DePauw's Bengals face stern test on hardwood this weekend

Undefeated major college Bucknell University rolls into Greencastle Friday to help DePauw, Wheaton and Wabash tip off a two-day basketball classic in Bowman Gymnasium.

Friday night DePauw and Wheaton will play at 7 p.m. with Wabash clashing against Bucknell at 8:45. Saturday night Wabash and Wheaton will launch the action at 7 p.m. DePauw will battle Bucknell in the nightcap.

Bucknell, with a 2-0 mark, brings the best record to the two-day shoot. The Bisons have bounced Gettysburg, 99-71, and American University, 59-57. Wheaton stands 1-2 for the campaign, suffering a one-point defeat to Carroll and a five-point setback at Millikin. Wabash, licked by DePauw 102-88, has also lost to Albion and Wednesday night lost to Hanover, 71-69.

Bucknell returns four of the five starters it had from last year's 12-11 squad that knocked off the likes of Penn State, Colgate, Lafayette, and Lehigh. Co-captain Craig Greenwood is leading the Bucknell charge that has been firing at the basket at a phenomenal .557 clip. The 6-6 center is averaging 21 points per game and is shooting a blistering 76 percent. He tops the team in rebounds with 32.

Junior forward Jim Wherry has a 20.5 average, hitting on .487 of his shots while senior guard Tom Schneider, 6-3, is third in scoring with a 17.0 average. Junior Bob McKernan, the only newcomer in the 1968 Bison lineup, has been a tremendous help to Greenwood on the boards, collaring 22 caroms. The 6-4 forward is also averaging nine points per game.

The other member of the starting unit is co-captain Ed Farver who is averaging four points at his guard post. The 5-10 speedster has been a defensive stand-out and has picked up nine assists in two contests.

Wheaton, DePauw's first night opponent, whipped North Central College, 63-62, in its opener before losing narrowly to Carroll and Millikin.

The Crusaders dropped an overtime, 107-106, contest last year to DePauw. Several of the hotshots on that club return, including flashy guards Tom Dykstra, 6-3, and John Pierucki 5-11. Dykstra is a two-year letterman and Pierucki has three monograms.

St. Louis Blues

By United Press International
About all the St. Louis Blues can do against the Montreal Canadiens is come close.

The Blues did it again Thursday night. They came close but suffered a 5-4 loss in a battle between the two division leaders in the National Hockey League.

St. Louis has never beaten Montreal in 11 meetings since the Blues were formed—including the four games in the Stanley Cup playoffs last season. The Blues forced two of the four games into overtime before losing.

Astros Come close

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (UPI) — The Houston Astros of the National League will make their first visit to Cooperstown next July 28 when they meet the Minnesota Twins of the American League in the 1969 Hall of Fame baseball game.

McDaniels' debut is 88-65 loss for WKU

By United Press International
Jim McDaniels' debut in Madison Square Garden didn't go exactly the way Western Kentucky hoped it would.

The heralded 7-foot sophomore may have suffered a bit from "Garden jitters" as he made only one of nine shots in the first half and fouled out midway in the second half as Western Kentucky was routed by Toledo 88-65.

It was the first loss of the season for Western Kentucky after five straight victories. The Hilltoppers are ranked 14th in the nation. Toledo is now 3-1.

McDaniels was one of the nation's most sought after high school prospects when he came out of Scottville, Ky. and decided to enter Western Kentucky.

In the second game of a Madison Square Garden double-header, Bob Miller and Steve Mix of Toledo stole the show. Miller and Mix combined for 53 points with Miller gaining 16 of his 28 points in the first half and Mix scoring 16 of his 25 points in the second half.

McDaniels tried to make it a game as he pumped in the first 14 points for the Hilltoppers in the second half. But he then fouled out and Toledo was in charge the rest of the way.

McDaniels finished with 16 points.

Jerome Perry, one of the four sophomores in the Western Kentucky lineup, led the losers with 24 points.

In the first game of the Garden twinbill Dick Stewart scored 30 points as Rutgers romped past St. Louis.

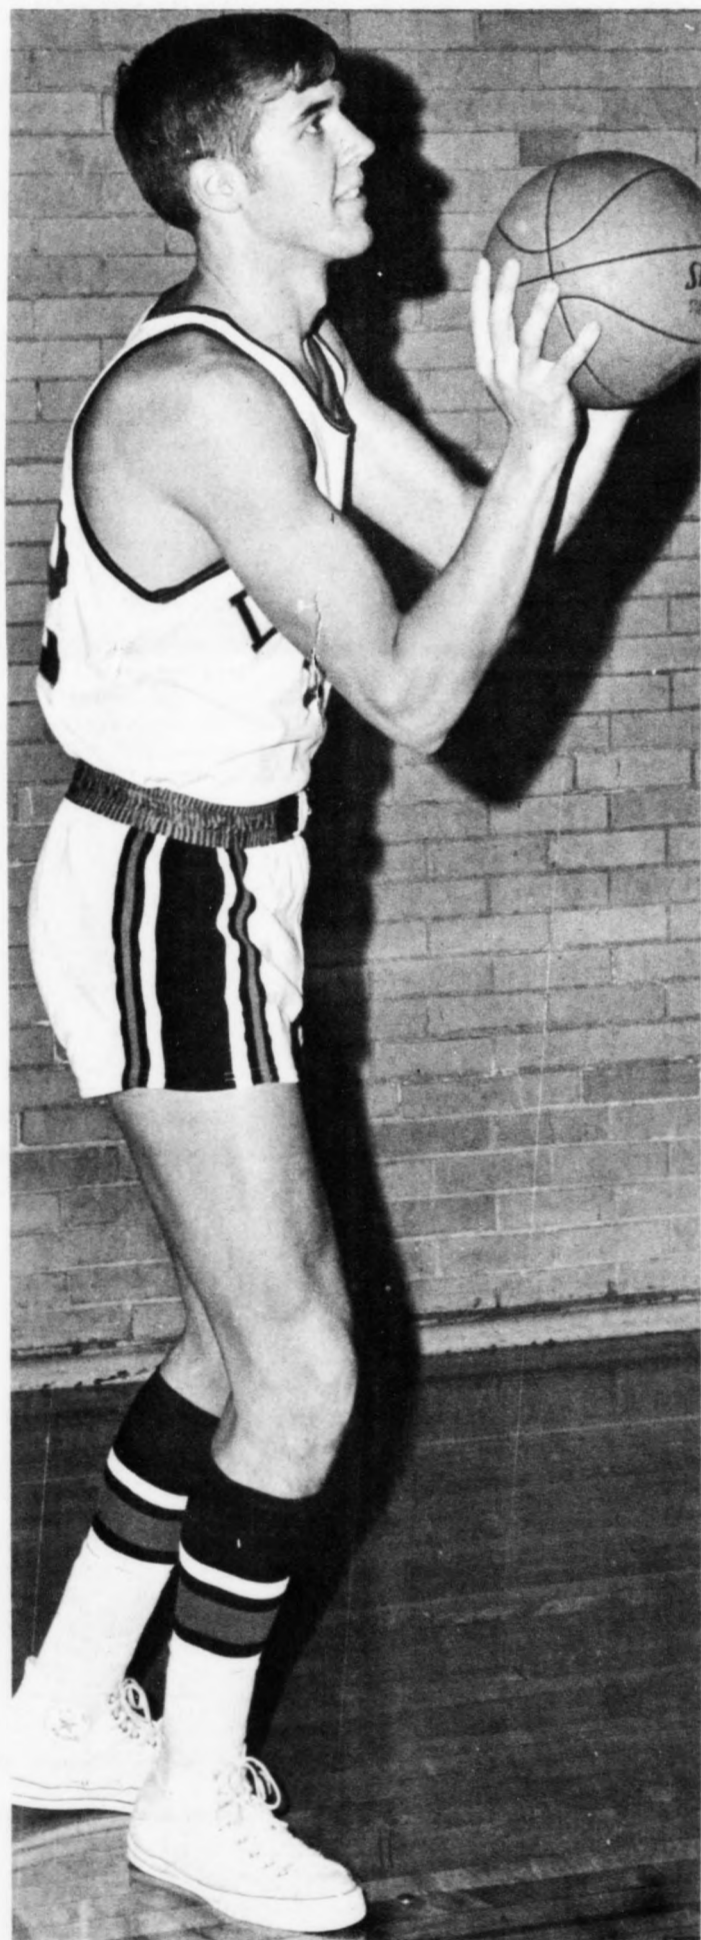

Stewart and Doug Brittelle combined for 31 of Rutgers' 40 points in the first half as the Scarlett Knights boosted their record to 4-1. St. Louis is 1-4.

Tom Thomas led St. Louis with 19 points.

Ron Washington scored 30 points as Wichita State topped Iowa 93-88. Dick Jensen and Chad Calabria led the losers with 20 points each. John Johnson, who was averaging 26 points a game, was held to 13.

Colorado set a team scoring record while whipping Arizona State 112-81. With six players in double figures, Colorado broke the school record of 99 points set eight years ago. Cliff Meely paced the winners with 22 points.

In other games, Providence whipped Rhode Island 86-76. Colgate beat Lehigh 98-83. Texas A&M topped Louisiana Tech 102-83 and Long Beach State whipped Oklahoma City 92-75.

DEPAUW'S T-A-L-L MAN—Tom McCormick scored his season high of 32 points against California Western Tuesday as the Tigers romped, 86-69. In four games, the 6-foot 5 senior is averaging 25.3 points in four games. The nationally ranked Tigers face two tough tests to night and tomorrow night against Wheaton and Bucknell respectively.

BUCKNELL BIG BOY—Tom Schneider, 6-foot 4 senior forward is expected to give Wabash College all the trouble they want tonight in the second game of a doubleheader in Bowman Gym. Tomorrow night, DePauw plays the unbeaten major college team.

DPU whips Millikin wrestlers

After capturing two firsts and one third place finish in the Little State Meet at Indiana Central last weekend, the DePauw wrestlers kept on the winning trail by defeating Millikin, 26-13, Wednesday night on the losers' mats. Saturday afternoon, Tom Croxton (130 lb.) and Paul Mitchell (145 lb.) took firsts and Chick Curtis (123 lb.) captured a third in the Little State Meet.

Head Coach Lee Schoenfeld feels that this year's squad is in good shape and appears to be strong for so early in the season. However, with three of last season's top grapplers missing from the present team due to illness and academic problems, Schoenfeld is hoping that lightweight Curtis and heavyweight Rock Klein will pick up the slack in hopes of an ICC championship. Millikin results:

Wt. Div.
123--Curtis (DPU), by default
130--Croxton (DPU), 9-2
137--Stafne (DPU), forfeit
145--Mitchell (DPU), forfeit

160--Surak (Millikin), default
167--Boucher (DPU), forfeit
177--Pearson (DPU), 12-0
HWT--Chamberlin (Millikin), 7-4.

The Tiger wrestlers travel to Valparaiso tomorrow afternoon (Sat.) for a dual meet with the Crusaders.

Big Ten officials veto 21-game cage schedule

CHICAGO (UPI) — Big Ten faculty representatives and athletic directors have voted down a request by basketball coaches for a 21-game schedule next year.

If the 26-game schedule had been approved, the conference would have adopted an 18-game double round-robin schedule of conference games. The coaches retain the option of adopting the double round-robin schedule, but must do it under the current 24-game format.

The Big Ten also voted Thursday to allow six Indiana University Olympic swimmers immediate eligibility for competition, though they are not registered for the school.

Four Won Medals
Four of the Indiana swimmers returned benedicted from the Mexico City Olympics. Charles Hickcox earned three gold and one silver medal. Others who gained eligibility were Win Young and James Henry, medal winners in diving; Donald McKenzie, who captured two gold medals; and Ronald B. Jacks and David J. Perkowski.

The six returned from the Olympics too late to enter classes this fall. The Big Ten ruling permitted them to compete in meets before the start of the second semester.

Immediate eligibility was also approved by the faculty representatives for Ben McGilmer, a University of Iowa basketball player, who returned to school this season after two years in military service.

The faculty group also granted a year of eligibility to Michael Allen, a Michigan State wrestler. Michael Regenfuss, a Minnesota basketball player,

Arthur Ashe tops ratings

NEW YORK (UPI) — Arthur Ashe, who elevated U.S. Davis Cup fortunes to Challenge Cup status, stands atop American tennis rankings today.

The U.S. Lawn Tennis Association's ranking committee recommended Ashe to be the nation's No. 1 amateur player in the men's division for 1969. Voting on the recommendations take place at the USLTA's annual meeting in Clearwater, Fla., Feb. 8 and usually follows the committee's suggested ratings.

Ashe, an Army Lieutenant from Richmond, Va., is ranked second internationally. He won the first U.S. Open championship this year.

Clark Graebner of New York, 1968 Wimbledon semifinalist and Ashe's Davis Cup teammate, stepped up from fourth to the No. 2 spot in the USLTA rankings. Ashe was No. 2 to Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico this year. Pasarell dropped to seventh place in the recommendations.

Initiate two members in Delta Kappa Gamma

Mrs. Morris McGaughey and Mrs. George Irwin were received into Delta Kappa Gamma membership on Saturday evening. The Initiation Ceremony, held at the Union Building, was followed by Epsilon Chapter's annual Christmas Banquet.

Mrs. McGaughey is a teacher in the North Putnam Schools, while Mrs. Irwin teaches in the South Putnam School system. Epsilon Chapter draws its membership from the faculties of all the Putnam County schools and DePauw University. Epsilon Chapter is the local unit of The Delta Kappa Gamma Society, an honorary for women in education.

The Initiation Ritual was conducted by Mrs. Willard Silvey, chapter chairman of Ceremonies, with the charges to the initiates being given by chapter officers.

Mrs. Deryl Sanders, president of Epsilon Chapter, presided at the banquet. Special music, arranged by Mrs. F.M. Aker, was provided by Thomas Grubb, David Carkeek, and Charles Pritchett. Mrs. Aker also led the banquet guests in singing Christmas carols. Mrs. Jerome Hixson, an honorary member of Epsilon Chapter, gave the blessing.

The arrangements for the banquet were made by the Chapter Social Committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Cleon Steward. The beautifully decorated tables, the prayer, and the music created in the guests a mood attuned to the true spirit of Christmas.

Mrs. Charles Guion, Terre Haute, the president of the Indiana State Organization of Delta Kappa Gamma, was the speaker for the occasion. She was presented by Mrs. Russell Compton, chapter program chairman. Speaking from the title, "Something's Happening!" Mrs. Guion commented upon certain current social and educational concepts as these are related to the matter of values, which is the focus of a four-year study to which all chapters of The Delta Kappa Gamma Society are committed.

Mrs. Guion observed that the problems of the 1920's, during which Delta Kappa Gamma was founded, and the challenges of the 1960's, which we are meeting, have much in common. In the 1920's there were stereotypes that needed to be negated and it was to do just this that Dr. Annie Webb Blanton founded Delta Kappa Gamma.

Today, new, but equally dangerous stereotypes, confront educators, who if they are to preserve a proper set of values must seek to overcome them. Mrs. Guion recalled Robert Frost's poem, in which he said, "I'm going out to clean the pasture spring," as offering a guide to suitable conduct for teachers. They have need, figuratively, to "clean the pasture spring" by negating dignity of individuals; by accepting the responsibility for personal growth.

Mrs. Guion remarked that educational systems are partly to blame for present-day problems because educators have taught pupils to evaluate but they have not taught these same pupils how to solve the problems that evaluation revealed, nor created in them a dedication to the solution of the problems.

She called upon Delta Kappa Gammas, both as members of the Society and as individuals, to personal dedication to the amelioration of the conditions that threaten the proper values of a free society.

Bainbridge Saddle Club

By Claire Winings
Country, western, and gospel music supplied by the Jack Market family will be the entertainment as the members of the Bainbridge Saddle Club meet for the annual Christmas dinner.

The meeting will be held Sunday in Cloverdale Community Building starting about 2:30, supper will be served at 5:00 with the turkey, ham, dressing and drinks furnished.

The day will feature another special event, the presentation of trophy belts and buckles to the high point winners in each event this last year.

Nancy Perkins, daughter of Bill and Kim Perkins, recently joined the United States Air Force. She is stationed at Lackland Air Base in Texas, where she will soon have completed her basic training.

Ludy Jordan will get her cast off soon and we are sure this will be a welcome change for her.

Another member with a foot messed up for a while was Bill Perkins. He cut his foot with a chain saw on the work day down at the club grounds. The foot was bad enough but he also ruined a pair of real nice boots.

The Nuckels family, who were new members this year, recently bought the Waffle House at Danville so if you are there stop in and say 'Hello' for they are working hard setting up their business.

Norman and Joanne Rogers have a new daughter, a perfect Christmas present to the entire family, even if she did get here a little early. Mother and daughter are fine, congratulations to all.

Did you see the cover on the Western Horseman this month? If any of you little cowboys or girls want to get your order in for a pony, do it quickly for from the looks of things Santa Claus is going to be pretty well out of them by the time he fills all orders, especially if you want a certain color or type get your letter off right away. Be real good and to young and old, I would like to extend my wishes to you all for a very Merry Christmas, a Happy New Year, Peace in the whole world as well as in your own heart and last but not least happy riding.

Rush flu vaccine

By CHARLES S. TAYLOR

ATLANTA (UPI)—The nation's drug manufacturers today rushed to increase a vaccine supply that currently can protect only one of every 40 Americans against the spreading Hong Kong flu. One health official says the action may be too late to be effective.

"As far as Hong Kong flu is concerned, people should have gotten shots last month," said Dr. Robert A. Baratta of the Florida Health Department.

But Baratta suggested that the chronically ill and the aged get the shots as soon as possible. These two groups have priority for the approximate five million doses of Hong Kong flu vaccine now being distributed to doctors.

The Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association in Washington said the target production was for 17½ million doses for civilians and 2.5 million for servicemen by January 1.

Flu and respiratory ailments have been reported so far in 33 states, causing rashes of absenteeism in schools and businesses.

New Jersey, where the flu has reached epidemic proportions, received 3,500 doses of vaccine and sent it to five counties with orders for use only on "high risk patients."

At least two colleges, the Citadel at Charleston, S.C., and Hollins College near Roanoke, Va., have closed because of flu outbreaks, and a number of New York schools reported high absenteeism because of sickness.

Marshall Field, a huge Chicago department store, said it is averaging from 150 to 200 absences a day among employees "and more are being sent home all the time." Gimbel's department store in Philadelphia said 20 per cent of its work force has been stricken by flu.

Twenty-eight Los Angeles County schools reported more than 10 per cent of their students ill, and Sioux Falls, S.C., health officials said there was an epidemic of respiratory illnesses in that city.

Florida Health Officer Wilson Sowder said the situation could make for a bleak Christmas in many homes.

"There's really very little a healthy person can do to ward it off if he gets the bug," he said.

How do you know when you've got the bug? When you have fever, chills, a sore throat and muscular aches.

What happens then? Go to bed and ask Santa to bring plenty of liquids and aspirin.

Has no respect for flag

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Chris Wood, 21, Cleveland, does not have much respect for the American flag.

"The flag means nothing to me," Wood said. "If it means anything at all, it stands for a lot of misery and injustice that has been fostered in this country."

Wood stopped standing for the National Anthem and the flag when he was 12 years old. He refused to stand before a game Monday night and was kicked off the Adelbert College basketball team by coach Buzz Ellis.

"I had a lot of flaps during high school assemblies," he said. "I sat in the back row a lot and when a teacher would see me sitting during the anthem, they would haul me into the office. A couple times they tried to bar me from assemblies but they never did."

"I don't seek publicity. Usually when the anthem is played, everybody is watching the flag and nobody notices me. And if I'm standing when it starts, I remain standing."

Wood and his wife, Susan, were married last summer and reside in Cleveland Heights.

"She sits during the anthem too," he said.

How to SELECT and CARE FOR YOUR CHRISTMAS TREE

ENJOY BEAUTY AND SAFETY THIS HOLIDAY SEASON

Look for uniform triangular taper. Check for weak, broken, unduly long branches.

Shake to see that needles are firm. If only a few drop, tree is fresh and more likely to last.

Once home, saw off butt an inch or so above original cut so tree can absorb water.

To prevent tree from drying and becoming a fire hazard, stand it in water and locate it away from radiators, fireplace, TV or other heat source.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Thinks Bishop should settle their dilemma

DETROIT (UPI)—Twenty-six years ago the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin was so outspoken the federal government banned his magazine as "traitorous."

His broadcasts to 30 million radio listeners were a constant source of uneasiness to the Roman Catholic Church.

Now Father Coughlin, retired at 78 from the Shrine of the Little Flower in suburban Royal Oak, is in print for the first time since 1942 denouncing the liberal priests of the present who want to "upset Pope Paul."

"Bishops must assume the major responsibility for the moral predicament in which the members of the Catholic Church find themselves," Father Coughlin wrote in "Helmet and Sword," a 54-page pamphlet described as the first section of a book dealing with the modern church.

On the Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—It was reported this week that a group of congressmen recently stopped off in Las Vegas while making a tour of military installations.

The visit was said to have included dinners and shows at some of the Las Vegas night clubs, with the Air Force picking up most of the tab.

These reports have given rise to insinuations that the mission was not really vital. The theory is that if the mission had been really vital, the congressmen would not have stopped off in Las Vegas.

They would have stopped off in Paris.

This theory is based on one of Parkinson's laws, which states: "There is no matter of vital concern to the U.S. Congress that does not require a trip to Paris."

I must say, however, that I disagree with such insinuations. It may be true that a congressman cannot collect as much vital defense information in Las Vegas as he can in Paris. But that doesn't necessarily mean a stopover in Las Vegas is unproductive.

The U.S. Air Force, which arranged this particular tour, obviously would not have included Las Vegas on the itinerary had it not believed the congressmen would profit from the visit.

All of this was explained to me by a friend in the Air Force with whom I discussed the matter.

"Bear in mind that Congress appropriates the funds for the Armed Forces," he said. "One of our main problems in the Air Force is making sure Congress doesn't give us more money than we need, while shortchanging the Army and Navy."

"If we felt our sister services were being deprived of funds because our projects received budgetary priority, we couldn't live with ourselves."

"We try to prevent that from happening by taking congressmen on inspection tours so they can see for themselves which of our projects should be left unfunded."

I said, "What projects might they eliminate in Las Vegas?"

"In that instance the Air Force probably was trying to help out the Navy," he replied. "If the Navy wanted to build a submarine base in Las Vegas, Congress would need first hand information about the project."

"I see," I said. "But suppose the Air Force wanted to build something in Las Vegas?"

"In that case the Navy would take a group of congressmen to Paris."

"Catholic laity thought the world are not only confused but scandalized and disgusted" at the actions of "theological rebels and secularist upstarts."

He said, "many of our prelates are amateur social engineers who hide the lamp of their religious commitment under the bushel basket of secular science."

Father Coughlin also had strong criticism for Archbishop John H. Dearden of Detroit, often mentioned as in line to be named a cardinal in the church.

The aging priest accused his superior of "under the table approval" of priests organizations such as the Detroit association of priests which he said is engaged in a "planned effort to upset Pope Paul."

Father Coughlin called dissident priests "loud-mouth clerical advocates of arson, riot and draft card burning."

"To feed, clothe and house the poor, to agitate for social and civil rights, particularly for the Negro, the Puerto Rican and the migrant Mexican; to dedicate archdiocesan funds for material purposes, have become the objectives of many of these gentlemen."

From 1936 until 1942, Father Coughlin published "Social Justice" but it was stopped by U.S. Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle who denounced it as "traitorous."

Will proceed

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Project officials today decided to proceed with the three-man Apollo 8 flight around the moon Dec. 21 after tests showed that fuel leakage in one of the rocket's engines was "no problem."

The space agency said the leakage was associated only with a fuel drainage operation and that it would not affect the flight of Frank Borman, James Lovell and William Anders on the first Saturn 5 rocket to be manned.

"Extensive testing throughout the night has confirmed that a leakage rate associated with one of the F-1 engines (on the first stage of the Saturn 5) is not a problem," the agency said.

When engineers pressurized the booster's kerosene fuel tank to simulate flight conditions, no measurable leakage was detected.

When the leakage was first reported late Wednesday, it was feared an engine change might be necessary.

The kerosene fuel was observed seeping down the bulb-shaped nozzle of the massive engine after a countdown rehearsal. Some seepage is normal, but the space agency said the engine showed a "higher leakage rate than previously observed."
